INTEREST ON BONDS.

Board of Aldermen Will Negotiate a Loan of Thirty Thousand Dollars.

SPECIAL SESSION YESTERDAY

Contract Usual Debt for Payment of Coupons and Current Expenses—Building Permits and Liquor Licenses. Mr. Bagley Claims Damages.

At the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen held yesterday afternoon, upon motion of Aldermen Worth, the Board of Audit and Finance concurring, the mayor and chairman of the Board of Audit and Finance were authorized and empowered to negotiate, at the lowest obtainable rate of interest, a loan for the sum of $30,000, payable in six months from date of loan, and to execute and deliver therefor the note or notes of the city, for the payment of current expenses and coupons due on the bonded indebtedness of the city July 1st. It was also stipulated in the motion, which was drawn by City Attorney Meares, that at the option of the holder of the note or notes for the loan, said note or notes should be receivable for taxes or other dues to the city.

Aldermen Taylor and MacRae, in this connection, stated that the city should be able to negotiate a loan from the city banks at a very low rate—at least much lower than the commercial rate, in view of the fact that ordinarily the city has large deposits with these institutions.

Architect H. E. Bonitz appeared before the Board and asked that some slight excavations be made for prosecution of the work on the Solomon building, corner Market and Front streets. It was shown that there would be no danger to the health of the community and the request was granted; same to be approved by the Board of Health.

License for the retail of liquor was granted to Peter Mohr, 1201 Market street, and wholesale license to Sol. Bear & Co., No. 20 Market street.

License for retailing was denied to Claude A. Leslie, Nutt street (Danenhart's old stand and to H. W. Howell, 111 South Front street, (formerly S. Siegler's stand), by reason of the location of the houses, in which they propose to do business.

Six bills from Mr. Thos. F. Bagley, agregating $302.85, were presented by Alderman McRae, Chairman of the Sanitary Committee, for damages claimed by Mr. Bagley to have been sustained by him by reasons of improper drainage on Second and Ann streets. Alderman McRae explained that Mr. Bagley complained that during excessive rains his property in this location was subject to overflows which not only damaged the land but was a source of much damage to his building. Alderman McRae said that he did not think that the city was responsible for these overflows. The city had spent about $3,000 in trying to remedy conditions there and that the location of the property was naturally subject to such overflows. Others expressed the same sentiment.

Alderman Taylor said that he thought it best to refer the matter to the city attorney.

City Attorney Meares examined the complaint hastily and said he thought if the work already done by the street force had not given rise to new conditions by which Mr. Bagley had sustained damage, the city would not be responsible.

After some discussion the matter was referred to a subsequent meeting.

A petition was referred to the fire committee from Contractor J. C. Stout asking for permission to erect two two-story frame dwellings for Rev. J. W. Craig on South Sixth, between Orange and Ann streets; one two story frame dwelling for S. F. Craig on North Second, between Grace and Walnut streets, and five frame dwellings for Judge W. T. Bannermann on Walnut, between Front and Second streets. All the buildings are to be covered with tin.

The meeting was held at 3.30 o'clock, Mayor Waddell presiding and Aldermen Worth, West, Taylor, MacRae, Montgomery, Springer, Parker, Attorney Meares and Clerk and Treasurer King were present.

The loan being negotiated for, ordinarily, has to be made until the payment of taxes begin in the early Fall.

Normal and Industrial College.

In another column appears the announcement of the State Normal and Industrial College, of North Carolina at Greensboro. This splendid Institution offers to young women thorough literary, classical, scientific and industrial advantages as well as special pedagogical training. About 1,700 students have matriculated at the Normal School, representing every county in the State except one. A number of Wilmington's most accomplished young ladies are alumni of this school. In fact several of the foremost members of the public school faculty received their training there. Dr. McIver announces that all applications for board in the dormitories and for free tuition should be forwarded to him before August 1st.

WOODMEN UNVEIL BEAUTIFUL MONUMENT.

To the Memory of the Late S. H. Penny. Eloquent Address by Brooke G. Empie, Esq.

Nearly six hundred people, at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, witnessed at Oakdale cemetery the unveiling of the monument erected by Live Oak Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, to the memory of their departed Sovereign, Samuel H. Penny, who died at his home in this city March 12th last. The unveiling was attended by the ceremonies prescribed by the ritual of the fraternity, which were very pretty and impressive as well.

At 5 o'clock a large number of the members of the camp, of which there are over one hundred, assembled in their hall over Fishblate's store and marched in a body to the scene of the unveiling. Mr. Joseph H. Hinton, as master of ceremonies, had everything admirably arranged and the service in its various details was observed without the slightest discord.

The special male quartette composed of Mr. C. H. Cooper, first tenor; Mr. R. F. Fowler, second tenor; Mr. C. H. Robinson, Jr., first bass; and H. K. Holden, second bass, opened the exercises by singing the hymn, "Nearer, My God to Thee," accompanied by music of the camp. This was followed by a second selection, "It is the Lord's Own Day."

Consul Commander Jno. J. Fowler, the presiding officer,, read from the ritual the customs of the order in preserving the good name of a brother while living and to make well his resting place when dead. This was followed by other readings and retualistic observances by Clerk George C. Jackson, Watchman W. W. King, Sentry A. J. Yopp, Banker W. H. Howell, Poet J. Wallace Carmichael and in the absence of Advisor Lieutenant W. G. A. Otersen, Ensign W. L. Holden.

Other selections by the quartette were, "Lead, Kindly Light," "Now the Day is Over," closing with an ode, which was sung with beautiful effect.

The address was by Brooke G. Empie, Esq., and is said to have been the best delivered on a similar occasion during the existence of the Camp. He referred in an eloquent and pleasing way to the charity established by the Woodmen in Wilmington, the worthy objects of the order, and its beneficent purposes; its high aims and lofty ideals. In referring to the life of the departed Sovereign, S. H. Penny, the speaker's eulogy was especially fitting and full of eloquent phrases and beautiful thought.

The monument is about eight feet tall and is very pretty. It is the third erected by the Camp, on two other occasions beautiful shafts having been erected to the memory of Sovereigns George W. Carter and C. B. Allen.

BUSINESS MEN'S PROTEST.

Representatives of Merchants and Aldermen Discussed Matter of Excessive Taxation Yesterday at Noon.

Nothing definite resulted from the conference of a committee of business men and a committee from the Board of Aldermen with regard to the alleged excessive privilege tax now being enforced by the city administration.

The meeting was called to order by Alderman C. W. Worth. Those present were the committee of aldermen, Messrs. West, Taylor, Springer and MacRae, and representatives of the signers of the protest as follows: Messrs. C. C. Covington, R. M. Wescott, G. J. Boney, B. F. Hall, I. M. Bear, B. F. Keith, W. E. Worth, Geo. R. French, Samuel Bear, Jr., and J. B. Mercer.

Chairman Worth explained that the only cause of dissatisfaction was the enforcement of the tax provision. The same regulation has been in force for a number of years, and is a creature of former administrations.

Mr. Keith admitted that the first clause of the protest—that claiming that a tax of $2.40 per year was imposed on purchases—was misleading, and that it was the intention of the promoters of the petition to strike out this clause before presenting, but inadvertently it had not been done.

Alderman Taylor called attention to the great reform brought about by the present administration in the way of collecting fines and reducing expenditures. Mayor Waddell, who was present, corroborated Alderman Taylor's statement.

Mr. C. C. Covington explained that he was active in obtaining signers to the protest, but no insult to the Board of Aldermen was intended. The tax, he said, was excessive and he thought a general levy was preferable to the present method.

Alderman Taylor said that the aldermen were perfectly willing to consider any equitable proposition that could be made.

Mr. W. E. Worth and Alderman MacRae also discussed the matter at some length.

Mr. Wescott moved that the petitioners assemble at some place and recommend to the aldermen some provisions that would meet all requirements and at the same time be satisfactory to the merchants and business men. The motion prevailed and the Mayor's office was agreed on as a meeting place for next Thursday at 3 P. M.

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATES.

There Were a Multitude of Cases, But None of Importance.

Jno. Hansley was before Justice Fowler's court yesterday charged with riding on the turnpike without having paid toll or fare. The action was brought by the Wilmington Seacoast Turnpike Company, the officers of which claim that they are continually harassed with the same evil practice as that charged against Halsey. At the instance of the prosecutor, who stated that the indictment was procured merely to serve as an example to other offenders, judgment in the case was suspended.

Lena Moore, colored, was also before Justice Fowler yesterday. The charge was simply disorderly conduct and she was dismissed with costs.

Before Justice McGowan, J. D. Doscher was charged with selling liquor on the day of election on the bond issue—May 3rd. An advisory was taken until to-day.

Charles Nelson, a Swedish sailor, was also tried by Justice McGowan yesterday. The charge was assault with attempt to rape, but the warrant was subsequently amended to simple assault, the prosecutor a father, living on the wharf, consenting to the amendment. The defendant was fined $5 and costs, in default of the payment of which he was sent to jail.

Justice Borneman's court also presented a busy scene yesterday. Rebecca Kelly, for assault, was let off with the costs. Monkey Allen charged with assault on Rebecca Kelly, plead former conviction and was dismissed. Monkey Allen, the same defendant was tried in two other cases. In one for simple assault he was let off with the cost, amounting to $6.10. In the second case for assault and battery with a deadly weapon, he was bound over to the August term of Criminal Court in the sum of $50 justified. Justice Bornemann has six cases set for to day's trial.

Mayor's Court.

Cases that came up before Mayor Waddell yesterday morning were of no importance. Thomas Branch and Henderson Hayes, colored, who may be depended upon to break the monotony in police circles at any time when business becomes dull, were up for disorderly conduct. Mayor Waddell reminded them of their past evil doings and sentenced each to thirty days in the city prison. Henry Williams, colored, was drunk and down Saturday night. He was given ten days. Spencer Stanford, a negro lawn mower, celebrated the completion of a job for a Fourth street resident Saturday by a drunk. Lieutenant Skipper explained the circumstances to the Mayor and Spencer was given $5 fine or ten days imprisonment. W. J. Brown, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

The Winston-Salem Excursion.

Mr. Frank L. Reid to Winston-Salem arrived here Saturday and spent Sunday and yesterday at Seashore Hotel on Wrightsville Beach. Mr. Reid is here making preliminary arrangements for the big excursion which his father Mr. D. S. Reid, will run from Winston-Salem to Wilmington early in July. The excursion will leave Winston-Salem July 11th at 8.30 A. M. arriving here at 4.30 P. M. They will leave on the return trip at 5 P. M., Thursday the 13th. The Winston papers announce that this promises to be one of the largest excursion ever run from that city. Mr. Reid expects to return to Winston-Salem this morning.

Marriage Sunday Night.

At the home of the bride, No. 705 South Fifth street, Sunday night at 7.30 o'clock, Miss Lillie Burriss and Mr. Frank Fails were happily married. Rev. J. P. King performed the ceremony. It was a quiet marriage, only the intimate friends of the bride and groom being invited.

OUR SEASIDE RESORTS

Summer Visitors Flocking Here From All Parts of the Country.

INCREASING IN POPULARITY.

Enormous Crowds Saturday, Sunday and Yesterday—Hotels, Seacoast Railroad and Steamer Wilmington Giving Excellent Service.

That Wilmington, with her two superb beaches, Wrightsville and Carolina, has come to be a great Summer resort, with ever increasing popularity, is being daily forcibly evidenced by the tremendous crowds of pleasure seekers who flock here to catch the balmy sea breezes, bathe in the superb surf and enter into the abundant round of social gaities, which are especially distinguishing this season.

During Saturday, Sunday and yesterday decidedly the largest crowds of this season were here. Seashore and Ocean View hotels, on Wrightsville Beach, and the Oceanic, on Carolina Beach, were crowded to their full capacity. At the Seashore, and also at the Ocean View, cots were brought into requisition. However, every guest was made thoroughly comfortable by the management of these excellent hotels.

Besides the hundreds of people from a distance who arrived here on the incoming trains from all parts of the country Saturday and Sunday and went at once to Wrightsville or Carolina Beach to spend the day, on week-end rates, there are a host of regular guests who are here to spend several weeks and a number of them this entire season.

The Wilmington Seacoast railroad did a tremendous business Sunday. It is estimated that they hauled fully fifteen hundred people to Wrightsville Beach during the day. Then, too, Captain Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, hauled very large crowds to and from Carolina Beach, so that it is estimated that 2,500 or 3,000 people, in addition to the cottagers and others living on the beaches, spent at least some part of the day there. The surf at both places was the finest it has been this season, the sea breezes were ideal, the club houses, hotels and public resorts were all thronged with people, and many of the visitors literally raved over the resourcefulness of these beaches for affording them pleasure and ministering to their physical and mental recreation.

The present week will be one of unusual gaiety. There are the usual nightly dances at Seashore Hotel. In fact Proprietor Campbell, Manager Crawford and their competent assistants are ministering to the pleasure and comfort of their guests in a manner that is winning for them the highest praise from their delighted patrons. The ease with which they so successfully handled their throng of fashionable guests Saturday, Sunday and yesterday is a convincing testimonial to their ability as hotelists.

Mrs. Mayo of Ocean View Hotel is also adding laurels to her already excellent reputation as a hotelist. Her numerous guests are pleased with the new hotel and her management of it. She is still making improvements to her accommodations, notably by refurnishing the hotel annex throughout. Arrangements have been made for another concert at Ocean View Hotel by the Second Regiment Band. It will be on to-morrow, Wednesday night, and the following programme, beginning at 8.15 o'clock, will be rendered:

March, "Orchard Cadets," Lousa; waltz, "Impassioned Dreams," Strauss; song, "Just as the Sun Goes Down," Bach; selection, "Plantation Medley," Centerno; song and dance, "Dancing in the Dark," Hall; cake walk, "Coontown Brigade," Buckley; march, "Manhatton Beach," Sousa.

There will be three club functions this week. The first will be by Hanover Seaside Club, Carolina Beach to-night. There will be no 8.15 o'clock boat from the beach to-night on this account, the boat leaving the beach for the city at 11 o'clock instead.

On Thursday night Sedgeley Hall Club, on the same beach, will give a big frolic, clubmen of Atlantic, Carolina and Hanover Seaside Club being invited to participate.

Atlantic Yacht Club will also give their usual Friday evening hop.

Among the visitors who have been sojourning on the Beach and left for their respective homes yesterday are as follows:

Miss Sadie Young, Miss Lineburger, Mr. E. S. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Carroll, Charlotte; Miss Ethel Mills, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nash, Greenville, S. C.; Miss Henderson, Miss Rankin, of Salisbury; Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Willet, Geo. C. Whitney, Augusta; T. Tillett Allison, Charlotte; H. Everett and S. B. Sargeant, Columbia.

Will Establish An Agency.

Mr. W. M. Hendren, the special agent for the Maryland Life Insurance Company for North Carolina, who has been here the past several days paving the way for the establishment of an agency for this city and section, has about completed the work, and Mr. C. S. Alston, a recent graduate of the State University, is expected here within the next day or two to take charge of the work. Mr. Hendren will, however, be here for several days yet. He spent Sunday with relatives in Newbern.

FUNERAL OF MRS. LAURA ROTHWELL

Held From First Presbyterian Church Sunday Morning—Interment at Oakdale.

At the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, at 9 o'clock, Rev. Payton H. Hoge, in a very fervent manner, conducted the funeral service of the late Mrs. Laura P. Rothwell.

The services were largely attended many of those present being former pupils of the deceased lady, to whom she had endeared herself by her admirable disposition and affectionate spirit.

Mrs. Rothwell being the oldest member of the church it was especially fitting that the elders of the church constituted the honorary poll bearers, which they did as follows:

Col. John D. Taylor, Capt. W. S. Worrock, Capt. W. R. Kenan, Messrs. James Sprunt, C. H. Robinson B. F. Hall and B. G. Worth.

The active pall bearers were: Col. Walker Taylor, Messrs. S W. Vick, W. M. Cumming, R. R. Bellamy, Jno. R. Turrentine, Jr., and W. H. Howell.

The interment was at Oakdale cemetery.

SOLICITING SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The Movement to Induce State Firemen's Association to Come Here.

Assistant Chief, W. P. Monroe, of the Wilmington Fire Department, started on his rounds yesterday with a subscription list with a view to securing about $1,200.00 in pledges for prizes etc., so that the North Carolina Firemen's Association may be invited to hold their annual convention and tournament here in 1900. He saw only a few business men yesterday but received much encouragement. To secure the firemen's convention for Wilmington would mean the bringing of hundreds and possibly thousands of people to the city during the convention days and the making of a sufficient subscription list to secure them would doubtless prove a good financial investment for the business men as well as by advertisement for the city.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS.

Much has been said and written about the industrial progress of the South within the past two decades, and while it has been apparent to all but few have any conception of the reality until the figures are presented showing what has been accomplished. The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record of last week condenses the whole story and presents it in brief in the following interesting table, showing the progress made since 1880:

	1880	1899
Railroad mileage	20,600	50,000
Cotton crop, bales	5,750,000	11,199,000
Cotton consumption in Southern mills, bales	233,886	1,231,000
Capital invested in Southern cotton mills	$21,900,000	$125,000,000
Number of spindles in Southern cotton mills	667,000	5,000,000
Grain produced, bushels	431,000,000	735,500,000
Capital invested in Southern manufacturing	$257,200,000	$1,000,000,000
Value of Southern manufactured products	$457,400,000	$1,500,000,000
Wages paid to factory hands in South	$75,900,000	$350,000,000
Capital invested in cottonseed oil manufacturing	$3,508,000	$40,000,000
Pig iron produced, tons	397,000	2,500,000
Coal mined, tons	6,030,000	40,000,000

This is not only a very interesting table, but it is a very suggestive one, for as it tells what Southern industry and energy have accomplished under very discouraging conditions it suggests what may be accomplished under more favorable conditions.

It should be remembered that twenty years ago the conditions were very different from what they are now, for then the South had scarcely emerged from the political pandemonium and the misrule of the reconstruction period, and the chasm between the sections prevented anything like an influx of Northern settlers or the investment of much Northern capital. That was one thing the South had to contend against.

For some years preceding that and for some years after (for most of the time after) even to the present, agriculture, the great industry of the South, was depressed to such an extent that as a class our farmers became despondent and many of them gave up hope of ever getting out of the straits. The turn in the tide which brought relief to the farmers of the West by the advances in the price of wheat and other food stuffs brought no relief to them, for cotton fell as wheat went up until it reached the lowest figure ever recorded in the cotton markets. There is nothing in five or even seven cent cotton for the planter to exult over, but he may feel relieved if after disposing of his crop he has escaped the sheriff. And yet between 1880 and this year the cotton crop more than doubled, which is doubtless one of the reasons why the price fell off to half what it should be.

With little money coming in and much of that going out it should be remembered that the South had little to bring in money save her cotton and other crops, and that there were few banks to borrow money from to enable the farmer to carry out his plans or to save his crop from sacrifice to meet the demands of the note holders who advanced him money to "make his crop," nor was there much bank money for the promoter of enterprises or the developer of resources to draw from, so the South had all these obstacles and more to contend against, and yet she has made in the short space of two decades this remarkable and marvellous record of progress.

To some extent, and a very great extent, these industrial ventures were experiments. Our cotton manufacturers embarked in the manufacture of cotton in competition with Northern mills when it was confidently predicted, by men who thought or pretended they knew, that the South could not succeed as a cotton manufacturer on a large scale, because it was a business that required experience, large capital and skilled labor. But the business not only succeeded but grew until Southern mills are now spinning and weaving over five times as much cotton as they did twenty years ago, and have branched out into lines that it was predicted with assurance they could never successfully handle.

The manufacture of iron was even a greater experiment than the manufacture of cotton, for our people had some experience in cotton manufacturing while they had practically none in the manufacturing of iron. But they ventured, the business grew and grew to such proportions that Birmingham now makes the price of iron for the world, and is shipping steel to Pittsburg. The man who would have predicted this ten years ago would have been looked upon as a visionary dreamer if his sanity might not have been questioned.

And so it was more or less of an experiment in other manufacturing lines; but we have passed the experimental stage, and the prospects were never brighter than now for continued progress, even on a greater scale than that of the past. Southern industry and energy have achieved much, and in doing so against the obstacles with which the have had to contend, have given proof of their possibilities under more favorable conditions.

NORTH CAROLINA AS A FARMING STATE.

We have frequently in these columns called attention to the advantages North Carolina presents as a farming State, when farming is done in the right way, and have called attention to its capacity as a grain and grass grower. In Saturday's issue of the Raleigh Post we find a letter written by a Mr. Steele, formerly of Minnesota, but recently settled in Randolph county, giving his views as to the agricultural capacity of that county, from which we make the following extracts:

"After correspondence with parties in the South I determined to visit Asheboro, N. C. I went there and was never more surprised in my life than to find such a delightful country with the land at such low prices. I looked over the whole country around there, hence I am not speaking of one or two farms, but of Randolph county, and when I tell you that I have seldom seen nicer land I am not rating it too high. The soil is easy to work and underlaid with a clay subsoil which makes the land susceptible of being brought up to a state of the very highest cultivation. The soil cultivated is in a good state and produces large yields of wheat, corn, rye, oats and grasses. The finest clover I have ever seen was near Asheboro. The woodland, and there is plenty of it, is covered with the finest of white oak, hickory, pine, and poplar, and when worked produces enormous yields of all kinds of grains and grasses. This land is all roling, gently so and can be cultivated with modern machinery, is well watered with springs of soft water and is practically free from stone. The finest of fruits, grapes and vegetables, grow in abundance. With a little care in the way of manuring and good modern plowing I hardly know how large crops this soil would produce.

"This land, in its present condition, produces from fifteen to thirty bushels of wheat per acre. Every bushel can be sold right at home at remunerative prices; in April it was selling at from 85 to 90 cents per bushel. Corn from forty to sixty bushels per acre, price 50 to 60 cents per bushel. Irish potatoes, as well as sweets, grow 200 to 300 bushels per acre, selling at from 40 cents to $1 per bushel. Butter sells at 20 to 40 cents per pound; new milk from 20 to 30 cents per gallon."

There is land in Randolph county which will yield 40 bushels of wheat to the acre, as good wheat as grows out of the ground. We know of land in that county the yield on which in a few years has increased from 15 to 30 bushels to the acre, and the end has not been reached yet. Randolph wheat has taken the premium at several expositions, and among these the premium for the world at the Chicago exposition. It is a great wheat county, but not the only one in North Carolina.

HARNESSING THE TALLAPOOSA.

Elsewhere we have spoken of the establishment of electric power plants in this state, but the movement is spreading, and some of the schemes talked about are of a colossal proportions. The latest comes from Montgomery, Ala., reference to which is made in the following, which we clip from the Baltimore Sun:

"According to the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser that city is on the eve of an electrical revolution. It states that $500,000 is to be expended, the Tallapoosa river is to be harnessed, and the power obtained is to furnish electric current to Montgomery, the value of which cannot be estimated. 'Suffice to say,' says the Advertiser, 'that it will be sufficient to light the entire city and run every mill and factory within its limits. The plant will be one of the most important in the South, as well as the most wonderful in this section of the country, for it will transmit power two miles farther than any plant in the United States east of the Mississippi. The great Niagara plant, which is now the largest in the world, furnishing a current for 28 miles, will be sidetracked by this new plant, whose transmission of power will extend a distance of 30 miles.' The Advertiser says a Northern syndicate with abundant capital is at the head of the enterprise, and that active operations on the work will begin at an early day."

This Alabama plant may sidetrack the one at Niagara if the operators of the Niagara plant content themselves with a radius of twenty-eight miles, which they will hardly do, for as we understand it this is an insignificant distance compared with the distance they can cover if there should be demand enough for power to extend their wires.

But if the Tallapoosa plant does sidetrack Niagara it will in turn be sidetracked by the Roanoke plant, if it be constructed on the plan outlined in the STAR of Sunday. It will convey power considerably more than thirty miles.

ANOTHER POWER PLANT.

That was interesting information given by our Raleigh correspondent in Sunday's issue of the STAR in reference to the establishment of an electric power plant at Roanoke rapids. Ex-Senator Cameron is largely interested in the water power there and being a man of wealth can, if he turns his attention in that direction, easily carry out the scheme referred to by our correspondent.

With the work now in progress at the "Narrows," on the Yadkin, the plant completed on the Yadkin from which power is transmitted to Winston-Salem, and the one on the French Broad on which work will soon begin, this will make the fourth, in addition to which there are others in contemplation which will in all probability materialize in a short while.

The character of our streams presents unusual advantages for the establishment of these plants, the streams as a general thing moving with rapid current, with frequent falls which can be easily utilized for power purposes. The plants already constructed or projected are but the beginning of what will be a system embracing many and transmitting in the aggregate practically unlimited power.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Elizabeth City Economist: Mr. Dempsy Spence, of Camden county, departed this life near Camden Court House Monday, aged 74 years. He was one of that county's most esteemed and popular citizens, having held official positions in the county, to which he had been elected without opposition until he resigned.

— Charlotte Observer: The North Carolina Electric Company, of Marshall, is to begin at once on the engineering work for its electric power plant, to be located on the French Broad river. The engineering and construction work of the plant will be done by Lieutenant Governor Reynolds and Mr. E. M. Gibbon, which is to be similar to the one they had charge of for the Faris Power Company, on the Yadkin river, near Winston-Salem. ——The Observer understands that Mrs. Chadwick, before selling her property east of the city to Heath, disposed of thirty acres joining the Wilkinson place to a Baltimore party for a mill site. It is the intention of the Baltimore company, it is understood, to erect a $300,000 mill.

— Columbus News: We learn with deep regret of the death of Mr. B. F. Yates, which occurred at his home in Chadbourn township last Tuesday, after a protracted illness. He was a gallant and faithful Confederate soldier, and lost one of his arms defending the cause he deemed just. —— Mr. James R. Green had two fine Red Jersey sows that were getting into his corn field. He took a dog and caught them and brought them home shutting them up in his lot. Three or four days after they were taken with convulsions and died. There was a continual jerking of the legs and jaws until they were dead. The dog had been bitten by a mad dog sometime before, but had not been sick. The hogs were not hurt by the dog; he caught them by the ear and held them until the men got hold of them. The question is, did the dogs have hydrophobia? The dog was killed. It was a remarkable case.

— Raleigh News and Observer: People from Henderson say that some very sensational developments have grown out of the shooting affair there last Monday. R. B. Hays, the man who did the shooting, has, it is stated brought suit against E. E. Finch, the man who was shot at, for $10,000. A preliminary hearing was had Friday evening and as a result Finch was required to give bond in the sum of $10,000 for his appearance at the next term of court. The evidence brought out for the prosecution is said to have been exceedingly sensational, consisting principally of the testimony of Mrs. Hays, with whom Finch was charged with being too intimate. She said her relations with the man began in December three years ago and related circumstances that, if true, may cause Finch to be arrested for assault. Since then, she said, these relations had been kept up only by threats of violence to her on Finch's part in case of exposure. Letters were produced to prove these threats. Feeling against Finch, in Henderson, is said to be very strong and further developments are looked for. —— A man named Richardson and his wife, living about a mile and a half from Wilson's Mills, were Saturday tried before a United States Commissioner at Smithfield for retailing blockade liquor. The woman plead guilty but protested her husband's innocence. The man also denied his guilt, but the evidence was "dead against" him, so they were both bound over under a $200 bond for their appearance at the next term of Federal court.

TWINKLINGS.

— Casster—"Doctor, a year ago you predicted that I wouldn't live three months. You see you were wrong." Doctor—"Never mind; better luck next time."—Puck.

— "There are two men in our golf club that I can't get along with." "Why?" "Well, Watkins gets mad when I call him Wilkins, and Wilkins gets mad when I call him Watkins."—Detroit Journal.

— Incredible: "Franklin," said Jefferson, as they sat sipping cool drinks in the Patriots' Club over the river, "I see the Philadelphians have given you a statue." "So soon as this?" queried the sage, in surprise.—Philadelphia North American.

— "Is cannibalism very common among you?" inquired the stranger apprehensively. "Common!" said the Pacific island belle as she coyly dug her toe into the sand. "Not at all. We consider it very recherche."—Washington Star.

— The interviewer—"There is a report started, Senator, that you are intending to retire from politics." Senator Makerox—"Young man, I am not the first man whose wealth has been over estimated.—Indianapolis Journal.

— Maud—"Dick proposed to me last night." Ella—"What did you tell him?" "I said he had better ask mamma, and what do you think the wretch said?" "Goodness knows!" "He said he had asked her already, and she wouldn't have him."

— "The minister," observed the church member, as if the idea had just occurred to him, "can take a vacation, but Satan never takes a vacation." "True," replied the other church member, "but Satan can stand the heat a great deal better than the minister."—Puck.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— The change of commanders in the Philippines is being discussed. General Otis has probably done as well as any other man would have done with our invading army in that quarter. What we need is change of policy instead of a change of commanders.—Atlanta Journal, Dem.

—— Russia's desire for peace is manifested by the bargain made with an American ordinance company for 600 field guns of the rapid fire variety. "In time of peace, prepare for war," and then war may be avoided. Other nations take the same view, and being prepared, war is as likely to occur as ever.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—— If the cries with which the Oxford students greeted Cecil Rhodes were inspired by popular sentiment, as they doubtless were, the founder of Rhodesia cannot be much of a hero in the eyes of the English people. They seem to regard him rather as a lucky adventurer, and to hold him responsible for the trouble with the Transvaal. His reception was in sharp contrast to that given Kitchener, who was greeted with enthusiasm.—Philadelphia Ledger, Ind.

—— It is ordered from the White House that the report of the Wade Court of Inquiry concerning the embalmed beef be not printed. The fact scarcely needs comment. It will be remembered, however, that the findings of the court completely exonorate Alger and Eagan and the beef-packers, censuring nobody but Gen. Miles. But the report includes the testimony as well as the findings, and to publish that would be what politicians call "a tactical mistake."—N. Y. World, Dem.

TRADE IN SMALL THINGS.

Some Little Articles That Make a Large Showing In Commerce.

One would think that almost any country could raise all the eggs its people consume. Some of the largest countries, however, import an enormous number of eggs. It takes about a billion and a half of eggs every year to supply the demand in Great Britain and Ireland besides all the eggs that are produced there. Forty per cent of the eggs consumed in the United Kingdom are brought from 20 foreign lands, including several of the British colonies.

Germany comes next to Great Britain as the largest consumer of eggs in Europe. Her imports are a little over a billion and a half a year, and she is obliged to pay $16,000,000 to $19,000,000 a year for the eggs she buys from other countries. The reason why Germany does not produce enough eggs for her own consumption is that the dampness of the country causes large mortality among chickens, and, besides, large districts are occupied by extensive estates, where the peasantry live in villages, which prevents them from keeping a large number of hens.

Japan is now using a great many eggs, though few are produced in the country. As they are very much cheaper in China, the eggs Japan uses are almost all imported from that country.

Russia is the largest exporter of eggs. The number sent from that country in 1896 was 1,475,000,000, of which 889,000,000 were shipped to the United Kingdom.

The manufacture of matches in Germany has become so important an industry that the factories are now using every year about 5,500,000 cubic feet of aspen wood, of which about three-fifths is imported from Russia.

Bavaria alone has 26 lead pencil factories, which employ from 9,000 to 10,000 workmen and produce on an average 4,320,000 lead pencils and crayons every week. It is a curious fact that the use of German lead pencils in all the public offices and schools of France is forbidden by law.—New York Sun.

Smokeless Powder.

The first smokeless powder that I made in England was made in exactly the same manner as the French. I had obtained a quantity of true gun cotton—that is, trinitro cellulose (known sometimes as insoluble gun cotton because it cannot be dissolved in alcohol and ether like collodion cotton dinitro cellulose). Some of this powder when freshly made produced fairly good results, quite as good as those produced by the French powder, but upon keeping it for a few months the grains lost their transparency, became quite opaque and fibrous, and it then burned with great violence.

Investigation showed that about 1 to 2 per cent of the solvent was still in the powder when the first tests were made, whereas the drying out of this last trace of solvent had completely changed the character of the powder. I then added to this powder about 2 per cent of castor oil, with the result that the castor oil remained after the solvent had been completely removed, so that the powder would keep any length of time.—Hiram S. Maxim in North American Review.

IN ITS ADVANCED and chronic form a cold in the head is known as Nasal Catarrh and is the recognized source of other diseases. Having stood the test of continued successful use, Ely's Cream Balm is recognized as a specific for membranal diseases in the nasal passages, and you make a great mistake in not resorting to this treatment in your own case. To test it a trial size for 10 cents or the large for 50 cents is mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. Druggists keep it.

For Over Fifty Years.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other.

THE NEW COLONEL.

How Grant Proved Himself to Be a Master of Men.

When Captain Grant, formerly of the regular army, was appointed colonel of an Illinois regiment in place of Colonel Goode, John A. Logan while escorting him to the camp said: "Colonel, the regiment is a little unruly. Do you think you can manage the boys?"

"I think I can," replied Grant.

Logan and McClernand, two congressmen, made patriotic speeches, and Logan, after a two hours' oration, led forward a quiet man in plain citizen's clothes, saying:

"Allow me to present to you your new commander, Colonel U. S. Grant."

"Most of the soldiers observed him for the first time," writes Hamlin Garland, from whose "Life of Grant" we have quoted. "They were astonished and disappointed." Grant looked like a grave country doctor. But he showed that he could manage the "unruly boys." There were loud calls: "Grant! Grant! A speech!" Their late colonel used to "orate" before them. The new colonel stepped two paces toward them and said in a clear, calm voice:

"Men, go to your quarters!"

If an 8 inch shell had exploded in their ranks, the "boys" would not have been more surprised, but they went to their quarters. There was that in the new colonel's voice which expressed command. The tone was not loud, but it was given with a clear cut inflection which showed him a master of men.

That evening at dress parade, as he stepped to the center of the regiment, wearing no uniform save a pair of gray trousers with a stripe running down the outside seams and an old sword, the men jested in low voices about their new commander.

Colonel Goode, the late colonel, not infrequently used the daily parade as an occasion to make a speech, and the men expected one from Grant. The line officers advanced, and the adjutant saluted.

"A soldier's first duty is to learn to obey his commander. I shall expect my orders to be obeyed as exactly and as instantly as if we were on the field of battle."

That was all he said. As the men marched back to quarters a private asked: "What do they mean by sending down a little man like him to command this regiment? He can't pound dry sand in a straight hole."

"He can't make a speech. Look at the clothes he wears. Who is he anyhow?"

"Boys," retorted a sergeant, "I'll tell you who he is. He's the colonel of this regiment, as you'll find, and don't you forget it."

The sergeant was a prophet. The regiment had obtained all the liquor it wished for. Grant stopped that. A man resisted arrest.

"What's the matter?" asked Grant of the officer of the day.

"The man persists in bringing liquor into camp and refuses to give it up."

"Put him into the guardhouse."

"He refuses to go."

Grant stepped up to him, seized him by the collar and jerked him outside of the camp gate. "Get out of my regiment," he said. "You are not worth disciplining. If you come back, I'll have you shot!" A big, dangerous man named Mexico was tied up with a score of others for leaving camp without permission. "For every minute I stand here I'll have an ounce of your blood," said he to the colonel.

"Gag him!" replied Grant.

One by one, as the hours passed, the other offenders were released by the officers of the guard. Grant released Mexico himself. The bully saw that his colonel was his master, and the regiment began to find out that it had a colonel.—Youth's Companion.

Sensible Physical Exercises.

I have always been much impressed with the facility with which the graduate of West Point or of Annapolis does a variety of things in physical exercises—exercises some of which are perhaps not always characterized by the name of athletics, although useful not only in physical development, but as adjuncts through life. The man who can ride, and who can swim, and who can dance, and who can fence, and who can do other things such as are taught at West Point and Annapolis has distinct accomplishments, the attainment of which has not only benefited him during the period of attainment, but the possession of which will continue to benefit him so long as he shall have the use of his physical powers.

I have long thought that the graduate of Harvard ought to possess physical accomplishments equivalent to, even if not identical with, those of his brothers at West Point and at Annapolis, and I am inclined to think that, unless he is a cripple or otherwise infirm physically, it is the duty of the university to see that he does possess such before it gives him his degree. —Harvard Graduates' Magazine.

Selling Papers on the Roof.

Not all the enterprising newsboys are in the United States. The small street merchants of Paris, when forbidden to enter the cars and omnibuses, got over a serious difficulty in real Yankee fashion.

It was easy enough, of course, to sell papers through the windows to people seated in the vehicles. But how was it possible to reach would be customers perched on the imperiales, the seats provided on the roof? A youth promptly solved the problem.

He procured a stick seven or eight feet long, with clamps fastened to the sides. Papers were put in the clamps. On the top of the stick there was a small cup with a hole in the bottom.

The hole was a very important part of the apparatus, for it reached all the way down, and through it came the copper coins of one or two sous, according to the price of the paper which the patron selected when the boy held up the stick.—Youth's Companion.

A Lover of Candor.

Impecunious man—I wish you would be so kind as to lend me a sovereign. I'll pay you back in a few days.

Candid Friend—If you had asked me for the loan in a candid and straightforward manner, I would have lent you the money, but asking me in the way you did causes me to disgrust you.

"I don't understand you."

"You asked me to be so kind as to lend you a sovereign."

"Yes."

"If you had been candid, you would have said to me, 'Be so stupid, be such an ignominious ass, such a hopeless idiot as to lend me a sovereign,' and you might have got it."—Pearson's Weekly.

Beaten by the Testimony of Mice.

A man in the Palouse country lost his ranch in a contest case because a nest containing a large family of mice was found in his bed. It proved conclusively that he had not occupied the ranch according to law.—Portland Oregonian.

Swift Retribution.

There was a wicked leer in Meandering Mike's eye as he saw the little girl coming out of the restaurant side door carrying a small tin pail.

"The idea!" he exclaimed to his comrade, "of incouraging sich luxuries in de young!"

"It's our duty to stop it," was the rejoinder.

Before the little girl could turn the corner the tramp loomed up before her and exclaimed:

"I'm sorry, lady, but I couldn't see ye carryin dat pail any furder. It's agin me gallantry."

The little girl began to cry. Mike seized the bucket and in a moment had the bottom of it pointed toward the blue sky. The effect was volcanic. Foam flew in all directions. His one ejaculation solved the mystery:

"Soapsuds!"

And when the restaurant proprietor came out and desired to know why his children could not blow soap bubbles without being interfered with the victim of poetic justice had not a word to say.—Washington Star.

A Woman's Smile.

"Strange what a little thing will turn the whole current of a man's life."

"What's the matter now, Jones?"

"Up to 80 days ago the young lady of my choice was taking my attentions seriously and our marriage seemed a foregone conclusion. Then I met her on the avenue, lifted my hat, made my best bow and dropped through a coal hole. Now she can't keep her face straight a minute while we're together."—Detroit Free Press.

AN EPOCH MAKING BOOK.

"Nicholas Nickleby" and Its Effect on Education In England.

The immense effect produced by one of Dickens' novels on the education of English boys is pointed out by Mr. James L. Hughes in an article in The Century on "What Charles Dickens Did For Childhood."

Dickens made schoolmasters prominent characters in six of his books—"Nicholas Nickleby," "The Old Curiosity Shop," "Dombey and Son," "David Copperfield," "Our Mutual Friend" and "Hard Times." The coarse brutality of Squeers was offset by the loving sympathy of the dear old schoolmaster who sheltered Little Nell. Dr. Blimber and Mr. Creakle, each in his way a perfect type of wrong methods of dealing with children, were more than counterbalanced by Dr. Strong. There is no page in any language that treats of more fundamental educational principles than the page describing Dr. Strong's school. In "Hard Times" the dwarfing of Louisa and Tom Gradgrind by their father's false educational ideal was brought into perfect relief by the unfolding of wisdom and sweetness in Sissy Jupe, who was not robbed of a real childhood.

Squeers' school was described to arouse the indignation of the public against badly managed private schools, conducted by ignorant, sordid, brutal men who "traded in the avarice, indifference or imbecility of parents and the helplessness of children." He had a wider aim, however, than the overthrow of an evil system of private schools. He caught the spirit of Henry Barnard and Horace Mann and was one of the first Englishmen to see the advantages of a national system of education and the urgent need of well trained teachers by whom young minds might be guided in the first stages of their growth.

The publication of "Nicholas Nickleby" freed England from the low class of private schools, aroused a widespread interest in national education and the better training of teachers and helped to reveal the fundamental principle of true discipline in home or school, that all coercion is dwarfing in its effect on character growth. There are many teachers and parents who still need to learn that even the most refined methods of coercion cripple the individuality of the child and prevent the development of its true selfhood, the divinity of its nature. For them "Nicholas Nickleby" is one of the best of all books. They should read it once a year.

CLAWED BY A TIGER.

A FEARFUL EXPERIENCE IN THE WILDS OF BURMA.

Story of an English Engineer Who Was Captured by the Natives and Used For Bait In a Trap Set For a Man Eating Monster.

Burma was a most disturbed country from 1852 till 1856. I had my share of rough work, for I was detailed to survey and explore the country with a view to opening it out by roads, writes Henry Stone in The Wide World Magazine.

I was quite young and owed my position to my knowledge of surveying and civil engineering, which I had learned at school at Woolwich. I was surveying a line for a road between Prome and Rangun. I cannot give details, as I have not my diaries by me, but one day some villagers came to ask me to shoot some elephants that were destroying their dhan (paddy fields).

I asked them if the herd was a large one. They said yes, but that if the two ringleaders, who looked like twins, were killed the rest would go back quietly into the yomahs.

I was not particularly busy that day, so I agreed to go out. I had a long trudge, and, sure enough, I came on the two inseparables and accounted for them both. But the day was overcast. We strayed erratically. Finally night came on, and our men acknowledged that they did not know their way out of the forest.

I ought to have mentioned that Moung Goung Gee, an independent warrior, half soldier and wholly a dacoit, was in arms at this time and appeared here and there from time to time. Wherever he met our troops he was defeated, of course, but as a rule he only attacked outlying towns, torturing the people and levying blackmail wherever possible. His whereabouts, however, had not been heard of for some time, and as there was no hope of our getting back to my headquarters we lit fires and composed ourselves to sleep.

I suppose it was between 2 a. m. and 3 a. m. when we were savagely awakened, and before we knew for certain whether the whole thing was a fantastic dream or not we were securely bound and taken off to Goung Gee's headquarters, about six miles off.

We had an interview with him next morning. He said he had long wanted to catch a sahib of the detested English and would mete out to me a punishment so terrible that it would effectually prevent others from wandering into his country. As for those with me, he said they had been warned what their fate would be if they assisted the kala-logue.

He ordered them off for instant torture and execution, but I cannot describe the horrors that followed. Their memory is a horrid nightmare to this day.

About 5 p. m. I was walked off a good six or eight miles through dense jungles, reviled and tortured more or less the whole way, and at length I found myself stripped and thrust into a trap prepared for a tiger—a bamboo arrangement of simple construction. My jailers were needlessly brutal and abused me in every way, hoping I'd like the treatment I should meet from the man eating tiger which hovered about near where the trap had been specially laid.

But previously, while a prisoner and tied to a tree, a Karen girl had, at the risk of her life, given me a little water, and I begged of her to send some one hurriedly to Captain D'Oyly, who was camped a few miles off, to hurry to my rescue.

The trap was one of those usually erected for tigers in Burma. It was a long, rectangular, boxlike structure made of bamboos. The portion set aside for the bait was only just large enough for me. I crouched there dumbly, half dazed with horror and quite unable to realize my fearful position.

It was Christmas eve, and the weather very chilly—for Burma. I offered large bribes to my custodians to let me escape, but they only scoffed at me.

How slowly did the hours pass. The cold was bitter, but I must have dozed off all the same, for I remember being awakened by a clammy something crawling over me. My heart leaped into my mouth. It was only a rock snake, however, creeping through the bars and seeking an exit somewhere. Oh, the ghastly loathsomeness of feeling that cold, creepy reptile gliding over my poor, palpitating body! I thanked God when the snake found an outlet somewhere and disappeared.

But shortly afterward the crowning horror came. I heard soft footfalls first and then something sniffing round the trap. There could be no doubt that it was the man eater. My heart nearly burst. I was kept in agony for fully ten minutes, and then the beast evidently found the door, for he entered, and I heard the door fall. There was a partition of bamboos between him and me, but I anticipated that he would soon demolish that and then tear me to pieces as I lay huddled up helplessly.

It appeared afterward, however, that the Karen girl's brother had been forced to erect the trap and had made the partition of male bamboos of great strength.

In the darkness I could see the great, luminous, wistful eyes of the man eater. The fearful brute, finding he could not get in to me, began to insert his paws gently, but I crept up to the outer bars, and then he could barely reach me. He did succeed, however, in giving me a claw or two on my back and buttock.

As he smelled the blood he began to gnaw at the bars and would doubtless have made short work of them, but there was a sudden glare of torches, a confused murmur, and then I felt the worst had passed.

The Karen girl, with ten of the Sikhs out of the 20 which formed my bodyguard, came up and bayoneted the tiger, who was caught literally like a rat in a trap. Fire they dared not, as they were only a couple of miles from Goung Gee's camp. They released me—more dead than alive—from my living tomb and then improvised a hammock out of a native blanket and carried me to my camp.

En route I met D'Oyly, who, with a strong force of regulars and irregulars, was hastening to my rescue. He was delighted to see me free and hastened on in the hope of surprising the dacoit leader. The latter, however, was too well served and had decamped before my friends arrived.

I lay between life and death for six weeks, for the shock to my system, as well as the exposure to the cold chills of a December night, had brought on a severe attack of fever. But I was truly thankful for my seemingly miraculous escape from that man eater whom I met under such appalling conditions.

The African's Endurance.

Two cases notably illustrative of the African native's power of endurance are reported from the British Central Africa protectorate. In each instance a man was dragged from his canoe by a crocodile and had an arm bitten almost to a pulp. The men had to be taken long distances overland. On reaching Zomba each had the injured limb amputated and quickly recovered. Dr. Douglas Gray, acting chief medical officer there, remarks further in his report upon the growing confidence of the native in the European medicos. Reports of cures—more especially in relation to surgery—spread rapidly among the natives, and the one old cure, a fiber band tied round a limb above the seat of disease, is, he says, fast losing its reputation.—London News.

William Black's Nervousness.

I am sure that the characters of his stories were more real to him than most of the men and women whom he encountered in everyday life. They were so real that their fate affected him as if it had been the fate of his dearest friends. For months after he finished "McLeod of Dare," with its great tragedy of baffled love, he was so shaken in nerve that he did not dare to ride in a hansom cab.—Sir Wemyss Reid in Speaker.

Court Dwarfs.

Until about little more than a century ago dwarfs were frequently kept as court toys. Records of them might be multiplied almost indefinitely.

Bebe, the dwarf of Stanislaus, king of Poland, lived to be 90 years of age, dying in Paris in 1858, and is variously described as having measured 35 inches and 28 inches. Julia, niece of Augustus, had two dwarfs, each 28 inches in height, and Henrietta Maria had two whose joint height was 7 feet 2 inches. The Emperor Augustus had a dwarf named Lucius whose height was 2 feet and weight 17 pounds. The last court dwarf in England was Coppernin, who belonged to the Princess of Wales, mother of George III.

THE CORPORATION COMMISSIONERS.

Inspecting the Carolina Central—More Smallpox in Raleigh—Negro Attempts Suicide—The Craig Bill.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., June 26.

The members of the corporation commission are to day inspecting the Carolina Central Railroad from Charlotte to Rutherfordton. They will probably inspect the South Carolina and Georgia, and return to Raleigh Wednesday over the Carolina Central and the Raleigh and Gaston. On Thursday argument on the exceptions of the American and Bell Telephone companies will be heard by the commission. Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, will represent the telephone people. On Saturday exceptions to the fertilizer rate will be argued.

The commission has about completed its answer in the fertilizer-rate injunction case to be argued July 15th at Asheville before Judge Simonton.

A crook named Robert Lanier, who claims Rocky Mount as his home, hired a bicycle from a dealer at Henderson, rode it here and sold it for $15. The owner of the bicycle came here yesterday and got it, but the police have been unable to catch Lanier.

Three Cases of Smallpox.

The smallpox has broken out here again. Three new cases were discovered here yesterday — the first in nearly a month. They are all negroes, who have dodged vaccination. One of them was a patient in St. Agnes' Hospital. He had been there a day. Fortunately, the nurses and other patients had been vaccinated.

But for these three new cases the smallpox hospital would now be empty. The last of the patients heretofore in it were turned out this morning. They are a man named Spence and his boy. Spence is a "Holiness" preacher, who was found fully broken out holding a meeting in the southern border of this county. He had to be arrested to be brought to the pesthouse.

No considerable spread of the smallpox is expected from the new case of yesterday, as nearly all the people of the city have been vaccinated.

Ex-Gov. R. E. Pattison.

Ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison and Mr. Geo. Luper, of Philadelphia, arrived here Saturday night and left this morning for Henderson to see Insurance Commissioner Young in regard to the Craig bill. They are interested in an insurance company—the Security Trust—that desires to enter this State to do business.

Yesterday at Littleton Tom Higgs, the son of Charles Higgs, a negro, living in the city, had his leg broken while beating his way on the train. He was brought here to the hospital.

About noon Sunday, Louisa Faxton, wife of John Faxton, living on McKee street, attempted to commit suicide by drinking an ounce of laudanum. It was with great difficulty that the physicians saved her life. This is the second attempt at suicide she has made within the past week. Both times she took laudanum. Jealousy was the cause.

COWHIDING AT WASHINGTON.

Mr. Woodward is Completely Vindicated — The Lady Admits That She Was Mistaken.

WASHINGTON, N. C., June 24.

Morning Star, Wilmington:

Mr. J. F. Woodward, who was brutally horsewhipped here Thursday morning by A. S. Kelly, J. B. Latham W. J. Crumpler and several others, returned to the city at noon to-day for the purpose of establishing his innocence. He was accompanied by Judge W. R. Allen, of Goldsboro, and Mr. H. L. Stevens, of Warsaw, attorneys, and four friends from his home. There was a large crowd assembled at the depot, and Mr. Woodward was enthusiastically welcomed by his many friends here, who have believed him innocent from the very first. The assailants and the young lady, Miss Jane L. Burgess, had retained able counsel. The lawyers of both sides got together immediately after dinner, but a meeting was not arranged between Miss Burgess and Mr. Woodward until 7 o'clock, when they met at a lawyer's office. The result of this identification meeting was as expected—the lady found she had made a terrible mistake, and acknowledged it. She wrote the following statement, wording it carefully, under counsel's advice, for it must be borne in mind that she was placed in the delicate position of having already identified Mr. Woodward as the man:

"I was insulted upon the streets of Washington by a man who was a stranger to me. He approached me from behind, and spoke to me. I turned around and saw him. I was, of course, indignant and excited. At the depot next morning, when Mr. Woodward was attacked, I had identified him as the person who had accosted me the day before, and I felt sure at the time that I was correct. There was a large crowd present, and the situation and circumstances made me nervous and excited. This afternoon I was brought face to face with Mr. Woodward, and had opportunity to examine his countenance and person carefully, while I was calm and collected. While he closely resembles the man who insulted me, yet I do not feel I could swear to his identity.

"JANE L. BURGESS."

Three of the assailants (there were eight arrested and tried before Mayor Chauncey, and fined $5 each for disorderly conduct), Messrs. Crumpler, Kelley and Latham, had the manhood to come forward after the final denouement and implore pardon of Mr. Woodward, offering to make any reparation within their power for the irreparable wrong done him. Mr. Woodward shook hands with them and forgave them. They also wrote and signed a statement for publication, which follows:

"We are relatives and friends of Miss Jane L. Burgess, who is an orphan, and has no brother resident in this town. We deemed it our duty to protect her from insult. We joined in the attack on Mr. Woodward at the depot only after he had been identified, and we acted from the best motives and entire good faith. Now, however, that the young lady, after a more careful view of Mr. Woodward, has failed to confirm her former identification, we desire to express publicly our deep regret at the occurrence.

"W. J. CRUMPLER,
"A. S. KELLEY,
"J. B. LATHAM."

After the result of the meeting was made known, which was not until midnight, a large number of the representative men of the town called on Mr. Woodward, congratulating him on his vindication and expressing their heartfelt regret that such a deplorable affair should have occurred at all, and particularly that its victim should have been an innocent man.

The assailants of Mr. Woodward requested me to state that they did not use pistols in the affair, as has been published. JOS. E. JOHNSON.

FIRST STEPS IN SELF GOVERNMENT.

Courts Re-established in Manila With Filipino and American Judges.

RAINY SEASON HAS SET IN.

Inland Campaigning Impossible—Americans Occupy a Large Extent of Country in Luzon—Insurgent Forces Scattered and Demoralized.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, June 26.—Great interest is taken in the first step which is now being taken here in the direction of self-government. The Supreme Court is now sitting daily and the American and Filipino judges are holding consultations through an interpreter. A unanimous vote is required for a decision. Major General Otis has persuaded Major Young, of the Utah battery, to remain on the court for a time after the battery departs. Three of the native justices are absent. Ambrose Rianzares, justice of the criminal branch of the court, happened to be at Tarlac, then the seat of the insurgent government, when the announcement of the appointments was made, and he was arrested and sentenced to banishment for life. His present whereabouts are not known. Pedro Lorente, associate justice of the Supreme Court, is in Cebu, where he has great influence, seeking to popularize American rule, with good results.

The native judges will now begin to hold criminal courts, having jurisdiction over all offences except those committed by soldiers or against military authority.

Movement of Troops.

The United States transport Sherman has sailed for the island of Negros, with the Sixth infantry, which relieves the California regiment.

The Montana and Kansas volunteers are returning from San Fernando and the Twelfth and Ninth regulars will replace them.

Senor Luis Marinas, the first Spanish Consul General at the Philippine islands, has arrived here from Singapore, on Board the Isla de Luzon. Delegations from Spanish organizations on tugs met the steamer and welcomed the consul.

The Banayan correspondent of the Noticiero writes that the gunboat Albany appeared off Bantayan June 8th, and her commander told the authorities of the town that unless they declared allegiance to the United States and raised the American flag after fifteen days, he would bombard the the town. The Albany then sailed, announcing she would return. When the dispatch was forwarded the town was greatly panic-stricken and it was thought the authorities would probably comply with the demand of the commander of the gunboat.

Insurgents Suffered Heavy Losses.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—General Otis, in reply to a cable from the War Department, asking for information regarding the situation and conditions in the Philippines, to-day cabled a long reply as follows:

"Rainy season. Little inland campaigning possible in Luzon. We occupy a large portion of the Tagalog country, lines stretching from Imus south to San Fernando north, nearly sixty miles, and to eastward into La Guna province. Insurgent armies have suffered great losses and are scattered; the only large force held together is about four thousand in Tarlac province and northern Pampanga. Their scattered forces are in bands of fifty to five hundred in other portions of Luzon; in Cavite and Batangas provinces, could assemble possibly two thousand, though demoralized from recent defeat. The mass of the people, terrorized by insurgent soldiers, desire peace and American protection. They no longer flee on the approach of our troops unless forced by insurgents, but gladly welcome them; no recent burning of towns; population within our lines becoming dense, taking up land cultivation extensively; are kept out of Manila as much as possible, as the city population is becoming too great to be cared for. Natives southeast of Luzon are combining to drive out insurgents; only hope of insurgent leaders is United States aid. They proclaim near, overthrow of the present administration, to be followed by their independence and recognition by the United States. This is the influence which enables them to hold out; much contention prevails among them and no civil government remains; trade with ports not in our possession a former source of insurgent revenue, is now interdicted; not certain of the wisdom of this policy, as people in those ports are without supply of food and merchants are suffering losses; meditate restoring trade privileges, although insurgents reap the benefits. Courts here are in successful operation under the direction of able Filipinos. Affairs in other islands are comparatively quiet, awaiting results in Luzon.

All Anxious for Trade and repeated calls for American troops are received. Am giving attention to Jolo archipelago and the Palawan islands. Our troops have worked to the limit of endurance. Volunteer organizations have been called in; replaced by regulars, who now occupy salient positions. Nebraska, Pennsylvania and Utah regiments are now taking transports and the Sixth infantry is sent to Negros to relieve California. These troops are in good physical condition; sickness among troops has increased lately, due mostly to arduous service and climatic influences, but nothing alarming. Of the twelve per cent. of the command reported sick, nearly six per cent. are in the general hospital, of whom three per cent. have typhoid and malarial fevers; twenty-five per cent. have intestinal trouble; remaining fifty-five per cent. have various ailments, fourteen of which due to wound injuries. Many officers and men who served in Cuba break under recurrence of Cuban fever, and regular regiments lately received are inadequately officered."

The inadequacy of the number of officers mentioned in the last part of the above cablegram has been remedied by the sailing of the transports Zerlandia and Sheridan, carrying a number of recruits for the Philippines.

Adjutant General Corbin says that all officers belonging to regiments in the Philipptnes who are not absent on account of a surgeon certificate are under orders to join their regiment at once. Forty four officers have sailed on the recent transports for Manila.

Secretary Alger said that no action will be taken for the enlargement of the army or sending troops to reinforce General Otis until the return of President McKinley. He also said that General Wheeler would receive no assignment at that time.

Considered Very Satisfactory.

General Otis' detailed report of the conditions existing in the Philippines is considered very satisfactory at the War Department. It is taken to mean that General Otis will now prosecute a campaign on account of the rainy season, except where the insurgents make it necessary to defend the territory now in possession of the United States. That portion of the dispatch telling of the belief among Filipinos that the present policy of the United States will not be upheld is regarded as of great significance. It is believed that when the Filipinos see there is no hope of their recognition by the United States they will give up the fight. The absence of any suggestion as to more troops being needed is taken to mean that General Otis does not believe they could be used to advantage at present.

KILLED ON THE SOUTHERN.

Horrible Death of a White Man Near Charlotte—Jas. H. Nelson Killed at Richmond, Virginia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 26.—A white man named Parsons whose home was at Lenoir, N. C., was run over by a Southern Railway train late last night thirty miles from here. He was brought to Charlotte and lived about thirty minutes after arrival. His body was entirely severed just below the waist, and while lying on a stretcher talking to a physician the unfortunate man saw the lower half of his body removed to another part of the room and commented upon it. He told his name, and talked very rational and in a very few moments said to the doctor that he had only a few more minutes to live and asked that he be given something to stop the pain. The doctor administered an opiate and Parsons became quiet and died in a few minutes. The man was about twenty-one years old and was beating his way on the train when killed.

RICHMOND, VA., June 26.—James H. Nelson, weigh-master and storekeeper for the W. R. Trigg, Shipbuilding Company here, was run over and killed by a train on the Southern railway at 11:40 o'clock this morning. His body was terribly mangled.

Mr. Nelson, who was the father of Mr. James A. Nelson, the superintendent of the Trigg shipyards, was about 55 years of age. He came here with his son from Connecticut.

RACE TROUBLE IN ALABAMA.

White Woman Assaulted by a Negro. Armed Negroes Congregated to Protect the Ravisher.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., June 26.—Two armed bodies of men are holding determined vigil near Cardiff, in this county to-night. One body is composed of white men, officers of this county, and the other of negroes. Early this morning it was reported that John Shepard, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Monroe Jones, near Carona last Wednesday, had been seen in that vicinity. Officers immediately set out to capture him. The news spread and negroes began arming themselves, securing Winchester rifles as though by magic. They kept congregating at Brookside, two miles from Cardiff, until there were fully two hundred of them. The negroes said their only purpose was to prevent violence being done to Shepard's life. Two special trains from this city, with deputies and a detachment of cavalry, went out this afternoon. The negroes were dispersed, but the rapist was not captured.

To-night the sheriff of Walker county has joined the posse from here and the search is being continued. The blacks are angry and many citizens expect further trouble. Since the race riots in that vicinity a year ago they have had arms secreted.

50,000 MEN WILL BE IDLE.

As the Result of the Tin-Plate Workers' Strike to be Inaugurated Next Friday Night

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PITTSBURG, June 26.—All the tin plate works in the country will be closed at midnight on Friday, as a result of the failure to settle the wage scale at the conference in Chicago. Fully fifty thousand persons will be made idle by the shut-down.

The conference, which opened in Chicago on Tuesday morning, closed Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, without arriving at an agreement. The workers' wage committee, acting under instructions received from the annual convention held in Detroit last month, made a demand for an advance of 20 per cent. The present wage scale will expire on June 30th, and members of the Amalgamated Association are not permitted to work after that unless the new scale is signed.

About 25,000 skilled workers are members of the Association and as many more are dependent upon them and will be idle while the skilled men are unemployed. Nearly 75 per cent. of the tin plate workers of the country are employed in Western Pennsylvania mills.

ONE OF THE KIDNAPPERS.

Mrs. Barrow Sentenced to Twelve Years and Ten Months in Prison.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs. George B. Barrow, when arraigned before Justice Werner in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court to-day, pleaded guilty to the charge of kidnapping baby Marion Clark. She was sentenced to twelve years and ten months in prison.

Justice Werner bitterly denounced the woman and pronounced her crime one of "consummate villainy," and refused to defer the sentence. "This woman," said Justice Werner, "would ordinarily be entitled to some consideration, but the nature of this case shows her to be utterly devoid of the fine and tender feelings that are the distinguishing characteristics of her sex."

A CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE.

The Sixth Day's Session of the Kentucky Democratic State Convention.

GOEBEL AGAINST THE FIELD.

The Three Candidates for Governor Worked Like Beavers—Convention in Session Eight Hours, But Only Two Ballots Were Taken.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LOUISVILLE, June 26.—A continuous performance of a howling farce, lasting eight hours, a rare vocal entertainment, with soloists and chorus of several hundred voices, declamation and tin-horn tests of lung power, made up the sixth day's session of the Democratic State Convention, and it narrowly escaped winding up in an exhibition of pugilism and marksmanship.

From 10 o'clock until 6 o'clock today Central Music Hall contained, without doubt, the most uproarious and disorderly body of men that ever gathered together for the transaction of political or other business. Angered by what they considered an arbitrary ruling of the chair, in refusing to allow an appeal from his decision declaring out of order a motion to remove policemen from the hall, over half the delegates set about with all the energy they could command to prevent by deafening noise the transaction of any further business until they secured a vote on this appeal. This plan was successfully carried out until nearly 6 o'clock this evening, when principally because of utter physical exhaustion the filibusterers allowed themselves to be outwitted and the ballot on nomination for Governor, which the chair had ordered early in the morning and had tried repeatedly to proceed with, was concluded by having the county chairmen, or as many as would, come to the stage and vell their votes to the clerk, who at a distance of a few inches was able to catch the figures.

Before they fairly realized it they were beaten and a second ballot was reached, this time with less tribulation. These two ballots, both fruitless, represent the day's work of the convention. After they were completed all were glad enough to adjourn until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Spectacular Entertainment.

Behind this spectacular entertainment the three candidates for Governor worked like beavers. To-day it was clearly Goebel against the field, and the Kenton county leader, cold and nerveless as ever, has successfully defied his two opponents to combine and beat him. They may do it yet, but so far they have shown themselves woefully lacking in their ability to throw their vote in any one direction or to keep it silent when their managers deemed it best that no votes be cast. Goebel controls the organization of the convention and through it the State central committee, but at present the fight is as open and as fierce as it has been at any time.

Many delegates, weary after last week's excitement or at the end of their allowance for expense account, have gone home. What effect this will have on the contest is an open question, but it has seriously alarmed many of the candidates for minor officers.

Pandemonium.

The chairman's efforts to secure a roll call on the nomination for Governor, after the convention convened, developed a season of excited speech making.

Then came a deafening chorus of sing-song yells, the chairman beating time with his gavel. After several minutes of this pandemonium, a facetious delegate arose. "Gentlemen," he raid, after struggling some time to make himself heard, "there seems to be a general disposition to sing. Why not let us sing together; let us sing 'Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow.'

A wave of laughter swept over the hall; then all caught up the strain and the hymn was sung amid surroundings that made it sound weired and uncanny, not indicative of peace and good will.

But sacred music never had a less soothing influence, and another attempt to start the roll-call was howled down. At this juncture a delegate rushed to the stage. Immediately in front of the chairman stood a line of blue coats. The excited delegate began to denounce the police, the chairman, and things generally. An officer laid his hands on the disturber's shoulders. The convention arose as one man and to the front of the house began. Every delegate was on his feet and wildly excited. This gesticulating, noisy mass surged forward, pushing back the police and crowding them against the stage. Four of the dissidents, with presence of mind, took possession of the disturber and hustled him out of the way. The police who had been stoically listening to all sorts of denunciation for an hour, evidently took the matter seriously. One of them, Captain Maher, pulled his revolver. His intention probably was to protect Chairman Redwine, who had made his way to the rear of the stage. At any rate the crowd did not catch sight of the weapon or the convention might have developed what had been momentarily feared for nearly a week, a general fight.

The Balloting Begins.

The disorder continued without interruption until after 5 o'clock, when the Goebel men hit upon the plan to have county chairmen come to the stage and cast the votes of their delegates. This set their frenzied opponents besides themselves with anger, but the roll call proceeded, the awful din increasing all the while. County chairmen came to the stage and the clerk had to lean over to very close range to catch a word that was said. The Hardin men and many Stone delegates did not vote. After half an hour of the hardest kind of work, the ballot was forced and announced as follows: Goebel, 352½; Stone, 261½; Hardin, 67.

The chair ordered another ballot whereupon Ollie James, a big lunged Stone leader, cried: "All Hardin and Stone men refuse to vote."

"They won't do it," the Geobelites responded, defiantly, and sure enough they did not and predictions that have been made that the weakness of Hardin and Stone would show itself in the lack of control over their delegates were verified. The last ballot, the thirteenth, resulted; Geobel 320½; Stone 275; Hardin 89.

By agreement between the candidates the convention adjourned until 1 o'clock to-morrow morning."

Cornelius Gardner, Charles James and John Myers, all colored, were sentenced to be hanged yesterday by Judge Wright in the Criminal Court of Baltimore, for criminally assaulting thirteen-year old Annie Bailey, also colored. Governor Lowndes may set July 28th for the execution of the trio.

S. A. L. EXTENSION.

Contracts Executed That Will Make a Solid Track From Richmond, Virginia, to Tampa.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NORFOLK, VA., June 26.—From sources which can be relied upon, it can be positively stated that the contract was executed to-day by the Seaboard Air Line for the building of the road between Cheraw and Camden, S. C., and from Camden to a connection with the Florida Central & Peninsula railroad at or near Columbia, S. C. While the surmise is strong that the Seaboard Air Line will run this new road through Columbia, this can not yet be definitely confirmed. There seems to be enough doubt to prevent any positive statement in the matter.

The other party to the contract is M. J. Condon, of Knoxville, Tenn., who was the lowest bidder. The grading will begun next week and enough eighty pound steel rails have already been ordered to cover 100 miles of track, though this is considerably more than the distance between Cheraw and Columbia. According to the terms of the contract the line must be completed before December 15, 1899, which, in connection with the Ridgeway and Richmond extension will give the Seaboard Air Line a solid track from Virginia's capital through Columbia perhaps, and through Savannah certainly, to Tampa, Fla.

A HOTEL BURNED.

All the Guests Escaped—Only Two Were Injured—No Insurance.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MACON, GA., June 23.—A special to the Telegraph from Indian Springs, the famous watering place about twenty miles from Macon, says that the Elder House, one of the leading hotels, was destroyed by fire this evening. About one hundred guests were in the building but all escaped. Only two were injured and they but slightly. All of the baggage was lost, however, the guests having no time to get into their rooms after the fire was discovered. The fire originated in the rear of the building, but the cause has not been ascertained. The hotel was separated from other buildings, consequently the fire did not spread. There is no fire protection in the village. The guests were from all parts of Georgia an dsome from other States. No insurance on the hotel.

SEABOARD AIR LINE.

Rumored Deal With the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—It is denied at the Baltimore and Ohio headquarters in this city that the Baltimore and Ohio had made a traffic arrangement with the Southern railroad, rumors of which are current. It is thought that the Seaboard Air Line is the Southern road intended to be mentioned in this connection, as the Southern has a long terminus track with the Pennsylvania system. As to the Seaboard deal nothing can be stated at the Baltimore and Ohio office, but it is elsewhere stated that negotiations between the two systems are approaching a satisfactory termination.

COLORED GIRL KILLED.

Her Skull Smashed by An Enraged Negro. The Murderer in Jail.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LEXINGTON, GA., June 26.—Alber Brightwell, colored, was lodged in jail here to-day, charged with the murder of a negro girl twelve years old, on last Thursday. The girl, it seems, was employed to carry water to the farm hands, of whom Brightwell was one. When she neglected to bring water at the proper time, Brightwell became enraged and smashed her skull with a bludgeon. The negroes of the community are much enraged and there may be trouble.

The strike of the girls employed at the Whitlock branch of the American Tobacco Company, Richmond, Va., is practically at an end. The large majority of the employes returned to work yesterday and a number will go back to-day.
